Lighting of Mirror
ELECTRIC V. OILIn view of the absorbing interest taken in the electric light a gentleman of great experience and engaged in making the fullest investigation into the relative merits of Electricity and oil as illuminants. The installation of electricity as a light is very imperfectly understood and that should a trial in Mirror be successful, the electric light will immediately arise, to enable property owners, Tradesmen and General Public to have a fair opinion. The gentleman will be a position from observation and enquires at the principal electric works in Canada and the cities and towns where the electric light is used, to produce
in the simplest manner possible,
all the information regarding the light and cost of electricity and oil
that can be obtained; that the power and people will have an opportunity of forming a correct judgement of electricity vs. oil. Realizing the importance of "Electric light" on any subject, the gentleman advises all people to use that penetrating insight, clear foresight and they will discover that the importance of electricity and general engineering in done in Mirror by Mr. Johnson, Carroll Avenue,

The Governor's Dog.

A certain ex-governor of a certain state was extravagantly fond of his dog. One day he saw the youngest son kick a favorite blooded dog. "You unmanly young cub!" roared the traitor parent. "How dare you kick my dog? I'll teach you to behave yourself better, sir!" When the offender was soundly thrashed the father wiped the perspiration from his forehead. "Let this be a lesson to you," he said, "how to treat my dogs. And now that I think of it, you've been disrespectful to my mother of late, sir!"—New York Post.

On the Last Lap.

"Now a odd race yesterday."
"Indeed?"
"Yes. It was between two dogs—a fox terrier and a dachshund."
"Well?"
"Two saucers of milk were placed in front of them and the object was to see which could lick up his first."
"Which won the race?"
"The dachshund won in the last lap."
—Florida Times Union.

Well Spoken.

Mother—You know what a party is, don't you, dear? (She aged four.)
You mean. A party is where you go and stay a little while and pass your saucer back for some more and see another little while and go home.—Boston Transcript.

His Usual State.

"I'm afraid I made rather a fool of myself last night."
"No, darling, I assure you I observed nothing unusual."—London Standard.

Advice From Her Lawyer.

Timothy Coffin, who was 200 years old at the Bristol county fair in the last century, once secured the acquittal of an old woman accused of stealing a piece of pork. As she was leaving the courtroom she put her hand to her mouth and in audible whisper said:

"Mr Coffin, what'll I do with the pork?"

Quickly came the retort: "Eat it, you fool!" The judge says you didn't steal it."—Boston Herald.

Sure of His Umbrella.

Departing about four o'clock, what a wet night! I wonder if you could give me the loan of an umbrella? Most certainly, but—well, the fact is I think I would be the better for a walk. I'll just take a turn home with you and shelter you by the way.

EASTER MESSAGE

My dear Friends,

In writing to wish you all a very happy Easter, let me remind you of the ruler in our Prayer Book. "Every Parishoner shall communicate at the least three times in the year of which Easter to be one." If we have used Lent rightly; if we have tried to get rid of our old sins, and are trying to live in charity with our neighbours, we can come gladly to our Easter communion and receive great benefits in so doing. While the world is rejoicing that a new spring has once more come, and the long cold winter has past. We can rejoice in the great truth of the resurrection of eternal life after death.

Faithfully your rector,
MARTIN W. HOLDOM.
